COLLABORATIONS

We believe that in order to achieve an equitable future for everyone, we must work side by side with communities. We are confident that by uplifting the collective experience and resources of our people and partners, we can navigate the most complex issues facing our community.

We follow the lead of groups like the Black Community Building Collective, Indigenous Communities Fund, and the Racial Equity Coalition. These leaders tell us what's most important to their communities—and we listen.

ADVOCACY

Our work is centered on people who are struggling to find support in the short term and prosperity in the long term. Supporting the work that communities of color are doing to change systems, influencing public policy, and strengthening community partnerships will mean long-term change.

INVESTMENTS

Everyone deserves a safe place to call home, enough to eat, and the resources they need to thrive. When you give to United Way, you join others in creating community-centered change.

Each week, we distribute over $1 million in rental assistance to help people stay safely in their homes.

More than 5,000 families receive groceries on their doorstep each week to help make sure they have enough to eat.

Benefits Hubs on community college campuses throughout King County help 15,000 students meet their basic needs so that they can thrive and succeed in school.

Join the group by simply signing up for our newsletter or start your year of impact by giving $1/day.

Change Makers

United Way Champions

We work side by side with communities to build an equitable future for everyone.

We believe such a future is possible only when we work with, invest in and advocate for those historically marginalized and oppressed.

Racial justice guides our work so that all people in King County can benefit from its prosperity.
